

The Ton of Pineapple.

by Jerome K. Jerome.

① What was the trip about?

→ Jim, George, Harris: these three friends went on an adventure on the river Thames. Jim's pet Montmorency accompanied them on this adventure.

② What were the items they forgot to carry on the trip?

→ Three friends Jim, George and Harris set out on an adventure on the river Thames. On the way, they went down to Monkey Island, ~~and~~ while having lunch there, they saw that they forgot to bring mustard, which they were supposed to eat with cold meat.

③ What were the three gentlemen doing?

→ When Jim, George and Harris realized that they could not bring mustard to eat with the cold meat, they ^{were} ~~are~~ very disappointed. At that time George took out a tin of pineapple from their hamper. Naturally, they got ready to open the tin of pineapple.

④ Why did they throw the pineapple tin into the river?

→ After taking the pineapple tin out of the hamper, tried Jim, George and Harris ~~try~~ to get the tin-opener but failed.

- ④ After that, Harold cut his hand trying to open the tin with his pocket knife. After that, when George tried to open the tin with scissors, it caught his eye. Finally when Jim, - the narrator of the story, tried to make a hole in the tin of pineapple with a bit cher, ^{he} ~~it~~ fell into the water.

- ⑤ Why did they say did not really sail into the twilight?

They said that they did not really sail into the twilight because, actually, their boat headed towards the fishing punt instead of the mystic lake bathed with twilight what they imagined.

⑥ Why did the three old men curse the three men in the boat?

→ In the story "The Tin of Pineapple", three ~~young~~^{old} men were fishing in their fishing boat. At that time the three men's boat went straight to their fishing punt and hit them. As a result, they fell from that fishing punt. That's why the three old men were cursing them.
